DETAILED ACTION

1> This action is in response to Applicant's arguments, filed 10.17.2006. Claims 1, 6, 11 and 16 are presented for further examination.

2> This is a final rejection.

Response to Arguments

3> Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant presents only one argument – that the prior art references do not disclose calculating the probability based solely on the actions of the particular user and not as a member of a larger set of users. Applicant cites column 47, lines 27-31 in the Horvitz as support. Applicant's analysis of Horvitz is incomplete.

First, Applicant's citation refers to one embodiment of Horvitz's invention that employs the user model for calculating probabilities of URLs at the server [column 46 «lines 41-45»]. In this embodiment, Applicant's assertions are accurate – the user model is based on the user's actions as well as other users who submit their requests through the same server. However, Horvitz discloses an embodiment where the user model is employed solely at the client computer [Figure 6 | column 46 «lines 41-44»].

In this embodiment, only the actions of the user at the client computer factor into the calculation of probabilities [column 24 «line 43» to column 25 «line 30»]. The user model in this embodiment relies solely on actions of the particular user at the particular client computer. Therefore, Horvitz teaches calculating the probability based solely on the actions of the particular user and not as a member of a larger set of users as claimed in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4> No claims were substantively amended by Applicant. The substance of the rejections cited in this section can be found in the previous Office action, filed 7.18.2006.

5> Claims 1, 6, 11 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C §103(a) as being unpatentable over Horvitz, U.S Patent No. 6,182,133, in view of Takagi et al, U.S Patent No. 5,881,231 ["Takagi"], in further view of Barrett et al, U.S Patent No. 5,727,129 ["Barrett"].

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
